Awaits Federal Approval. The Nickel Plate's application for proval of the merger is now pending before the interstate commerce com-mission. In addition to the C. & O., it involves the Pere Marquette, now housed in the Grand Central station, and the Erie, which uses the Dearborn station. Another road in the proposed merger, the Hocking Valley, does not have terminal facilities in Chicago. The Lake Erie and Western-the old Clover Leaf—already is a part of the Nickel Plate, and is not an individual party to the merger application. According to data presented at Washington, the consolidation involves 14,357 miles of track and assets aggregating $1,406,763,792. This information is presented to indicate the extent of the power behind the Chesapeake and Ohio. It is certain that the C. & O. did not move to the lake front without be approval of the Nickel Plate interits. In fact, it was reported yester ay that the Nickel Plate investigated

HOUSE ADJOURNS AT SPRINGFIELD IN HONOR OF MEDILL M'CORMICK

Springfield, Ill., March 3.-The house day paid its respects to United States Senator Medill McCormick, who died n Washington last week.

Representative Arnold introduced a Wins Before Committee Comm Cormick's memory. The resolution reads:

Whereas, The Hon. Medill McCormick was a member of the house of representatives and introduced and sponsored the first budget bill in Illi-nois, and while in the United States senate played so prominent a part in bringing about the enactment of the 1921 revenue bill, and while engaged in ivilian activities was an universally recognized leader in the field of jour nalism, and

Whereas, he was a strong, forceful leader with deep convictions and al-ways fighting valiantly for his ideals, with no thought but that of the public welfare; be it resolved, that we express our sincere regret and sorrow on the decease of the Hon. "The giving of lawmaking power to one judge deprives men of the right of trial by jury. It would be far better that we suffer some loss than to have the rights of the individual injured. The right of a manner that will put our tax sys the working man to a living wage is tem on a better and more scientific as sacred as the right of a property

Six Feet Eight Bumps into a Puzzle

He had got into the habit of gauging the height of low doorways, so that he wouldn't bump his head. He measures six feet eight inches.

One would think that a person of this size could get about anything he wanted, but the insurance companies wouldn't insure him. They said he was a bad risk.

He came to our Service Station to ask what could be done. We told him to build his own insurance fund-to put into the savings bank every year the amount that his premium would have been, or more. Then when this had reached a sizeable sum, he could turn it into a trust fund or into the same securities the insurance companies themselves bought.

There are many persons who for some reason can't be insured. But they can do as this man is doing -build their own fund. The trouble with this arrangement, though, is that some will not regard it as obligatory as they would the insurance premium. For this reason we advise that such money be placed in a separate Special Fund that must be added to regularly, and which you make it a point of honor with yourself not to draw from until you have consulted our Service Station to see whether your need can't be taken care of some other way. Indeed we suggest that you advise with our Service Station before you start the fund. We can perhaps make it easier for you to stick to it.

One Million Insurance Policies

The Most Sensational Insurance Bargain Ever Offered! Simply Send Coupon Below and $1 Registration Fee, and a $7,500 Insurance Policy Will Be Sent to You!

Other newspapers have, in the past, offered Insurance Policies to induce the subscribers. Fifty cents has been charged for the policy. But, in addition, the buyer has had to subscribe to a newspaper for one year at a cost of at least $10.80.

The Tribune is not in the insurance business. Neither is it in the premium business. But The Tribune has determined that, if the public wishes to secure Insurance Policies through newspapers the readers of The Tribune are entitled to more insurance, better insurance, and greater protection than can be obtained anywhere else.

The Tribune therefore has made an arrangement with the Federal Life Insurance Co., a Chicago company established 25 years and having assets of seven and one-half million dollars, through which The Tribune is able to offer a $7,500 Insurance Policy for the small registration fee of $1.00. All other expenses connected with the issuing of this Policy are paid by The Tribune. AND YOU DO NOT HAVE TO SUBSCRIBE TO THE TRIBUNE TO GET

This sensational offer is open to everybody between the ages of 10 and 70 (except persons who are totally blind or deaf or crippled to the extent that they cannot travel safely in public places). It includes men, women and children. It includes policemen, firemen, street car, "L," and bus employes, taxicab drivers, workers in trades and offices, city employes, and employes of The Tribune and other newspapers.

All that you have to do to get one of these Policies is to be a reader of The Chicago Daily Tribune and pay the small registration fee of $1.00. NO PHYSICAL EXAMINATION! You can renew your Policy for another year by the payment of the same small registration fee. And its value will increase 10% on renewal.

This is the most sensational Insurance bargain ever offered. The Tribune's Policy is the broadest of its kind. Prepared expressly for readers of The Daily Tribune and not obtainable anywhere else. At this price you will want one of these policies for yourself and every member of your family. Application coupons will appear in The Tribune daily and Sunday for a limited time. Simply clip one and send it to The Tribune and the Policy will be sent to you.

INAUGURATION DAY IN WASHINGTON -AND CHICAGO

N WASHINGTON to-day the thirtieth president officially takes his office. In Chicago, to-day, Lelewer introduces Knox Hats to the people of this city. The two events have a curious relation. The President and the hat's worn by the presidents are both officially inaugurated to-day.

Since Lincoln's day Knox Hats have been the choice of the presidents. In those days Lincoln came to the shop of Charles Knox and made his purchases. To-day the citizens of Chicago may come to D. Lelewer & Son and purchase a hat worthy of the head of the president. D. Lelewer & Son now offer you Knox Hats in a variety of dignified shapes and colors. No president of the United States who came to Knox for his hats received better service and attention, nor a better hat than you will receive when you come to D. Lelewer & Son to be properly hatted for Spring.

A CHECK ON THE JUDICIARY.

The United States Supreme court has upheld the right of the President to grant a pardon to a person held in contempt of the federal court. The case was that of Philip Grossman of Chicago. He was sentenced to a year in jail and to pay a fine of $1,000 for contempt of an injunction restraining him from selling liquor. The President allowed the fine to stand, but released him from the jail sentence. The federal district court held that the pardoning power did not extend to cases of contempt of court and ordered Grossman to jail. He appealed to the Supreme court.

Chief Justice Taft has given the unanimous decision of the court that the President's power of pardon is unlimited under the constitution, and the individual has plenty of mind, but properly so for the protection of liberty. The it does not work right. power of pardon is held to be a check intrusted to tion of quality, not quantity. the executive to give relief in cases of undue harshness or an evident mistake in the enforcement of law.

Hence, Newest of Misses' Frocks Engagingly Fashioned of Taffeta

REALIZING the importance of this fresh springlike fabric, and, too, the importance of wearing the new things first, Marshall Field & Company presents Taffeta Frocks, sponsored by the most favorably known couturiers of Paris.

Pictured first is a gray, navy or black taffeta over an eyeletembroidered batiste slip of blue or yellow; in the center, a quaint basque effect with tightly shirred petal skirt; the third achieves the new front flares leaving the back straight and flat. Misses' Coats and Ensemble Suits Flare in Unexpected New Ways

A NEW season—and the Misses' Sections are resplendent with spring's rich, new fabrics which appear in combinations decreed authentic by the great designers of both Europe and America. Fluttering revers express a new tendency in the Coat of fine wool faille at left that is effectively lined in plaided silk crepe. $165. The charmeen and silhouette crepe Ensemble Suit has a scarf collar which ends surprisingly in a fox banded flare. $185. The Coat at right below is richly embroidered in silver and colors, fastened with satin ties. $115.

The Prevailing Ensemble Suits

IN the well-dressed world of today one type of costume is universally prevalent for every hour of the day—the Ensemble Suit. Smart, becoming, and convenient, its popularity is deserved.

This Very Becoming Suit

Sketched at the right is an Ensemble Suit whose long charmeen coat is handsomely but simply embroidered. The frock of flat crepe has threequarter sleeves, a fold of the same material at bottom of the skirt, and is embroidered.

In all navy, wigwam, black or chili, and in combinations of navy and blond, or navy and orange tint. $115.

A Suit Effectively Embroidered

Under a coat of twillbloom or kasharine cut on long and severe lines is worn a dress of silhouette crepe with long sleeves. A long scarf may be brought across the neck in place of a collar. Effective embroidery trims neck, sleeves and pocket. In natural kasharine and wigwam, Venezia blue and gray, all wigwam with twillbloom coat, navy twillbloom with blond or , brick. $135.

Out of the High Price Class -but still in the High Quality Class

This is the car that has broken all Kissel "kick-up" in front, which gives a low sales records for the past nineteen years—the new Kissel Five-Passenger Brougham, $1895.

This is the car that is winning new fame for the Kissel name. Praised for its performance, admired for its beauty and desired for its value, this great motor car is focusing upon itself a flood-light of interest throughout the whole

Even those conservative people who usually praise with a poverty of superlatives frankly admit that this car represents the greatest value the industry has ever

It is a millionaire's car priced for the millions. Long and low-cradled, its stylish swankness attracts attention wherever it travels. Its rich, lustrous black body is colorfully brightened by a crimson three-line strip and crimson wheels. And the lazy luxury and rare roominess of the interior melt miles of riding into precious minutes of delightful pleasure.

Outstanding features of this new Kissel center of gravity; spring side-play ad-justment, which, by means of a specially designed spring-hanger with adjustable bearing, prevents all side-play insprings; hand-fitted bronze graphited bearings which form a silent, velvet-like cushion at all working points and practically eliminate rattles and squeaks. Like all Kissels, it is equipped with an entirely new Automatic Lubrication System under Sidney Dawson patents. With one filling this car can be driven several hundred miles without giving a thought to chassis lubrication.

But above and apart from all these features, is the now famous "Latest Advance Engineered Kissel Motor" which powers this great car. This motor, which can be driven continuously at 70 miles an hour for hours at a time without fear of burning out bearings and which will travel 25,000 miles and more without the usual service work, is the same as Colonel Wall drove over the Indianapolis Speedway in a grueling test and proclaimed to be one of the staunchest, smoothest-performing eninclude specially designed frame with gines he had ever encountered.

The Advance Sale of Tickets in blocks for the Woman's World's Fair is now open.

Those desiring reservations may communicate with Mrs. Parmelee McFadden, Chairman Ticket Committee, Woman's World's Fair, 64 West Randolph Street, Telephone State 8845.

Woman's place in the sun, the way of its achievement, and the markets of the world that court woman's favor will be shown in the American Exposition Palace on the Lake Shore Drive and Erie Street at the Lake. The progress and accomplishments of women in every trade, profession, art and industry in which they have succeeded will be depicted by a bewildering variety of

There will be special features every day and evening. Lectures on dress designing, budget-making, cooking and the care of children. Noted women who have made a name in the worlds of business, the arts and sciences will tell how they have succeeded; there will be a fashion show and style parade; women musicians will give concerts and plays written by women will be acted by women. There will be demonstrations of women's products. Singing by women's choirs and choruses—all in all, the carnival spirit will vie with the world of business to provide entertainment.

It will be essentially the big Exposition of the year.

JLLINOIS MERCHANTS TRUST CO. Survivorship Savings Accounts

not fully appreciated by many people

A Survivorship Savings Account through a Survivorship Savings with the Illinois Merchants Trust Company is an ideal arrangement for husband and wife, or for any two people whose interests are mutually dependent, because it permits either one to make withdrawals from the account at any time.

In case of the absence of either person, or in the event of accident or other emergency, the other still has free access to the account.

Likewise, upon the death of either person, the fund may be withdrawn by the survivor without probate proceedings.

The possession of ready cash, so important at such times, can be Account.

Such an arrangement gives not only a sense of personal security but also the satisfaction of knowing you have provided an additional measure of protection for your dependents.

Our officers will be glad to explain to you in detail exactly how you would benefit from a Survivorship Savings Account in the Illinois Merchants Trust Company.

Your savings will draw interest from March first if deposited on or before Tuesday the tenth. Savings banking hours are 9 A. M. to 2 P. M. week days - Saturdays, all assured in no better way than day, 9 A. M. to 8 P. M.

realized the fact that unless it offered the public something substantially different and better than they are accustomed to get that it would have no place in the business community of Chicago.

So it started to work to provide just such a place. It made an intensive study of food buying and food distribution and set about to help remedy some of the things it thought evils-and improve others it thought might be a help.

How well we have progressed along these lines we leave to the public to judge-but we have built a business in 10 years from absolutely nothing to one of some importance in Chicago.

Two thoughts have been constantly in mind-first that nothing of a questionable character or doubtful quality will ever be sold in this store, and second, that no price higher than the lowest prevailing will ever be charged. This principle has been strictly adhered to.

It is this store's firm conviction that no matter how rigid the economy practiced-by any individual or any home—their best interests will be served by the purchase

Permanent roads are a good investment - not an expense

An Extra Gasoline Tax of from 6 to 20 Cents Per Gallon

Your gasoline bills run into real

But have you ever stopped to figure how much of this is in the form of an incredibly high gasoline tax?

Let's see what happens when you leave the Concrete Highway and take to a gravel or a dirt road.

Conclusive tests have proved that a gallon of gasoline will carry you only two thirds as far on a gravel road as on a Concrete Road. On a dirt road a gallon of gasoline will carry you only half as far as on Concrete.

With gasoline at twenty cents a gallon, you would thus pay a gasoline tax of more than 6 cents per gallon on the gravel road and 20 cents a gallon on the dirt road.

These are figures you can't get away from. You can prove them yourself.

And remember that every time you travel on either a dirt or a gravel road you also increase wear and tear on tires and run up your general repair bills.

Why continue to pay these high taxes and get nothing in return but the discomfort and inconvenience of unpaved roads and streets?

Let your local officials know you want an adequate system of Concrete Roads and Streets. They are just as willing to build them as you are anxious to get them.

But they must have your support.

Burned Evidence By MRS. WILSON WOODROW

The story is being told by young Dandridge, junior member of a New York firm of byers. Old Jerome Fosdick, one of the richest clients of the firm, invites Dandridge to hand at his home. The young lawyer is interested in the old man's granddaughter, Sara iful roung society woman, who is Fosdick's sole heir! Fosdick tells Dandridge that sar's father, his only son, had spent many years in South America, where he died. After his ceath a South American woman appeared at the Fosdick home with baoy Sara, whose aber, the nurse said, had died soon after the baby's father. Foedick had investigated after luncheon Mme. Adelbron, a famous psychic, calls on Fosdick and tells him she and that when she had to leave the city on a theatrical tour she had left with Sara's and that when she had to leave the city on a theatrical tour she had left with Sara's pather all her jewels and a large sum of money. When she returned to Buenos Aires patella Fosdick was dead and her property had disappeared. She just succeeded in trading them and she demands that Fosdick return her jewels and the money with interest A few days later the old man is found dead in his car. The case is in the hands of Police happeter Curran. Dandridge tells him about Mme. Adelbron's demands on Fosdick and mforms him that the medium had carried with her a list of jewels which had belonged to Sara's mother and written in the latter's handwriting, identical to a list in Sara's consistent. Before Dandridge is able to have Mr. Fosdick's safe, which centains important letters,

Before Dandridge is able to have Mr. Fosdick's safe, which contains important letters, opened, it is mysteriously drilled and giffed. Curran and Dandridge hasten over to the feedback house and find that the letters are missing. The inspector questions Herbert, craire of the Fosdick museum, and the old man's secretary, Miss O'Connor. Both have good sibis. Herbert claims he spent the house between 6 and 11 at the house of Professor Markham, but admits he allowed a Professor Quigley, known to him slightly, to remain in the museum alone during the afternoon.

Achison, a famous criminal lawyer of New York, is Adelbron's attorney. He invites padridge to dinner at his apartment, and there informs the younger lawyer that his client is about to sue Sara Fosdick for the money and jewels she claims she left with Sara's mother. He advises Dandridge to have Sara settle the affair out of court.

Graham Smith, reporter who had covered the Fosdick death for his paper, tells padridge be saw Sara Fosdick in a downtown restaurant the night of the robbery with a crook known as Lied Harry. Afraid that Sara will meet with harm. Dandridge goes to the Fosdick house to warn her. While there Curran telephones to say Herbert has been labed on the street. Miss O'Connor faints at the news.

INSTALLMENT XXVII.

EXTENUATING CIRCUMSTANCES

As I straightened up, after laying Miss O'Connor on the couch, I felt myself Rest Cure for stiffening, the hair slowly rising on my head, for a man had stepped through door at the rear end of the dimly lighted hall, and was coming toward us. Herbert himself-in the flesh. "Do forgive the manner of my entrance as well as the lateness of the hour," he said to Sara, in a voice which was not Herbert's; "but Curran's sleuths were so thick that I had no choice. Why-He had caught sight of Miss Mouse on the couch, and he passed Sara

He had caught sight of Miss Mouse of the and myself like a shadow, and knelt beside her.

"Cathleen," he cried, lifting her. "Good God! You're not dead! Speak "Too Many Kisses" Light, when Noah is away from the Paramount studio, teaching their pet cuts

"Good God! You're not dead!"

Lord Harry. I had already guessed it was he. Miss O'Connor opened her eyes, stared dazedly at the face bent over her,

Miss O'Connor opened her eyes, stared dazedly at the face bent over her, lifted her hand, and touched the man tentatively as if to make sure that he were not a ghost; and then gave a long sigh of content.

"Harry!" she murmured weakly, "I thought you were killed," her voice in a sob. "Almost at the door, they said. I was sure they had mistaken broke in a sob. "Almost at the door, they said. I was sure they had mistaken the factor of promise suits that his father is constantly compelled to settle for a rest.

His eyes turned to Sara and myself. "What does she mean," he questioned swiftly. "Who was killed? Not good old name. Haworth—Herbert, I mean?"

"Herbert, 1 mean."

"Herbert, 1 mean."

"Herbert, 1 said. "Inspector Curran just telephoned to us. He was er—taken with some sort of a seizure in the street and died instantly. He ignored this feeble effort of mine to conceal the facts.

So they got him, too," he muttered, "just as they did Fosdick. The Fer de Lance again.' I realized then that the murder of Jerome Fosdick was no secret to him. Either Sara or Miss Mouse must have told him; but what was the meaning from women for six months and when of those last, cryptic words? But while I was still wondering about them, he, with that swiftness of movement, mental as well as physical, which was characteristic of him, had Mr. Gaylord. "I might as well give turned his attention to his sister again. I was sure she was his sister, for although there was no resemblance—they were of different types—there was something in the carriage of the head, the set of the eyes, as well as other indefinable signs which proclaimed the relationship. 'Don't you think you ought to go to bed, Cathleen?" he asked. "You've had a shock, and you should rest."

"Perhaps I should," she said. "I don't want to, but I feel so weak.

While we had been talking, Pardy had summoned Mrs. Hayes, and now she came running down the steps and bent over Miss Mouse with many exclamations of affectionate concern, but this did not interfere with her efficient handling of the situation. Pardy, under her orders, had already lifted the little secretary, and was starting toward the stairs with her.

"Take Mr. O'Connor into the library," Sara whispered to me. be down as soon as I see she is really all right." Lord Harry left those outer habiliments of Herbert, his hat and coat in the hall, and followed me into the fire bright room, quite a different person the man who had so startled me by his sudden appearance at the end

A strong, slender figure, a rather high bred face, with a clean tan over the fair skin, blue eyes and light hair; a most disingenuous and attractive looking young man; but I had had another glimpse of him there in the hall when he had first heard of Herbert's death; the swift forward thrust of the jaw, the hard, wary glint in the eye, one incredibly swift movement of the hand, all revealed the outlaw perpetually on guard.

I saw now how it was that he had been able to impersonate Herbert so well. They were of about the same build, the conformation of the lower part of their faces was similar. The most noticeable thing about Herbert was that one shoulder was perceptibly higher than the other, and he also had a slight peculiarity of gait. It was, therefore, not difficult for a man with a mimetic sift to counterfeit the dead curator's appearance and manner.

A number of things was becoming plain to me. Lord Harry was certainly the man who had entered the museum the night of the robbery, and had been mistaken for Herbert by the watchman on duty. Also, being Miss O'Connor's brother, it was through her that Sara had met him; but whether Sara had used him in the furtherance of her own scheme, or whether she had been cleverly persuaded by the brother and sister, I could not tell. Until I knew better just where this de luxe crook and his sister fitted into the general plan. I must reserve decision.

Considering these possibilities, I forgot him temporarily, and looked up

"But Mr. Dandridge," he answered my thoughts as if I had already uttered them, "if I had any questionable object in mind, I would hardly have come here tonight to meet you, Miss Fosdick's lawyer."

He dropped into a chair opposite me, and went on.

"Forget for a breathing spell all the fact and fiction you have heard about me, and let me put the case before you. Miss Fosdick has a secretary who is devoted to her. That secretary is the sait of the earth, but she owns a brother who is a black sheep. Odd, but those things happen in the best regulated families, you know. Yet, even black sheep occasionally have their regulated families, you know. Yet, even black sheep occasionally have their Miss Fosdick was in a dilemma, and consulted the secretary. The sec-

Claudia Muzio's appearance at Orchestra hall last night in a benefit recital for De Paul settlement proved among other things that she is just about as expert in the lore of recital singing as she is in opera, which means great wisdom indeed. It is a faculty quite outside the art of good singing, or, as Miss Muzio uses it, in addition thereto.

For she begins with a voice that is a pleasure to the ear from its sheer quality, she uses it to sing uncommonly well, then she puts a program to gether with much skill and delivers it in a way that makes her fairly idolized. She was generous with her encores, BY EDWARD MOORE.

Hangover Quarrels Will Probably End in Divorce Court BY DORIS BLAKE.

One of the ten commandments for young husbands by Jan Norris, magistrate of New York, prompted by a wide court experience with domestic squalls, reads: "Kiss and make up quarrels before going to sleep. Hangover fights lead to the divorce court. Which reminds me of a story woman of my acquaintance tells. On her wedding eve she was taken aside by her mother.

"Beulah," proceeded her mother you are a pretty headstrong young woman. At times you are not the easiest person in the world to live with You have a temper. But I'll take the blame for that, as well as for the strong minded characteristic.

"But your husband is going to have difficulty understanding how to man age you at times. I haven't lived with you twenty-three years without being able to appreciate that. You are going to have quarrels and you are going to believe you are in the right, whether promise that you will kiss him every time you two have words. O, yes, you'll have them! And he may not ready to kiss and make up. But offer to, anyway. And don't ever let quarrel unkissed away.

"If you'll promise me that, dear," Beulah's mother ended, "I'll be the happiest woman in the world, because I know you will make a success of your marriage." "Did you do it?" I asked Beulah. "God bless that mother of mine," she answered. "She knew what she was doing when she exacted that promise of me. George and I quarreled, as mother predicted we would. There were times when I felt more impelled hit him than to kiss him. Had my mother lived I might have felt justification in releasing myself from that solemn promise. There were times when it seemed too grotesque a per-formance to offer my lips after he had stung me with some bitter remark. But I stayed true to my promise.

"One night George, after a heated battle of words in which he was the offender (so help me Heaven, he was), slunk off to bed, sullen and mad as could be. An hour passed. Two. I kept on reading, out in the library.

"Suddenly I looked up and in the doorway stood his dejected figure, and from his lips came the startling de-'Well, aren't you going to kiss

"After that our disputes occurred with less and less frequency. Many a hearty laugh we had over that incider of the apparition in the doorway demanding to know if I was not going to perform my regular duty. In ten years now I don't believe we have had one heated argument. But I haven't lost the habit mother started me on.
"You know," Beulah adds reflective-

Such popularity must be deserved

> THE magic carpet of the Thief of Bagdad! The greater magic of Douglas Fairbanks, whose very name packs theatres to the doors! Mr. Fairbanks has won success in many roles, Chesterfield in but one.

Yet both have achieved their immense popularity by the simple process of deserving it.

Downright better taste-that's the "magic" of Chesterfield! What else could account for such popularity?

among sound investment bonds, in the present market, is not likely to be a matter of accident. It requires careful study of conditions in various parts of the country and in all industries, including the railroads and public utilities. Frequently the data acquired thru such studies will show that two issues of equal investment merit are selling at widely different prices. Where it is reasonably certain that this difference in price has nothing to do with safety, the bond selling to yield the higher return is clearly the better bargain. We shall be pleased to name, upon request, several bonds which we think are bargains and at the same time thoroughly sound investments.

THE WALL STREET JOURNAL'S

Subscription List Has Increased

50% In Three Years!

The reasons for it are—

INDEPENDENT AND FEARLESS NEWS GATHERING AND PRESENTATIONS. EDITORIALS written from the standpoint of common sense and based on the laws of the land. Our subscribers pronounce them the best published in America and some say that every business man should take The Wall Street Journal if for no other reason than to read them.

(A manufacturer in Missouri writes: "No better editorials have ever been written. They are an education. Their virile and straight-from-the-shoulder pronouncements are to me a relief from the milk-sop, wishy-washy junk ordinarily fed to the public by other papers.")

ECONOMIC ARTICLES, personally written by C. W. Barron, international authority on economics and finance. His writings give a viewpoint obtainable only from years of intimate relationships in the fields of economics and finance. His writings point out solutions for perplexing problems of the day.

(A West Virginia banker writes: "I find the articles written by C. W. Barron of great walne. His broad experience and his knowledge of financial conditions make him one of the most able financial writers in America.")

EXCLUSIVE NEWS ARTICLES written by experts in their respective lines. These articles cover industries and transportation systems and the units comprising them. (An investment banker of Kansas says: "I consider your specialized news particularly beneficial as it gives side-lights on matters which are treated as of no importance by the general newspapers of the country.")

EUROPEAN NEWS and comment gathered and analyzed by our own staff member who are located in all parts of the world.

(A California fruit packer says: "Your various articles on foreign business and the imports and exports of the various European countries are particularly helpful.") NEWSPAPER SPECIALS—These are boiled down paragraphs giving the meat of important special news appearing in American and European business and general newspapers. They are just long enough to keep the busy executive well informed without sacrifice of valuable time.

(President of a cotton mill writes: "I am always interested in Newspaper Specials' from which I derive a great deal of information that is worth while.")

MONEY AND EXCHANGE-A page devoted to money and credit, both underlying (Treasurer of a Louisiana lumber company says: "If we had not read your Money & Exchange' column in 1920 we would be out of business today.")

THE BOND MARKET-A complete history of each day's events and quotation (Executive of a coal company writes: "I always read your bond page to get suggestions.") THE STOCK MARKET is closely watched and reported. The underlying reasons for price fluctuations are explained by staff writers who specialize in stock market activities.

(A Colorado investor says: "The Wall Street Journal has been the medium through which I have gained financial independence at the age of forty.") THE STAPLE COMMODITIES MARKETS - GRAINS AND PROVISIONS, COT-

TON, SUGAR, COFFEE, etc.—are given special attention inasmuch as they are close related in finance, and have more or less close relation to the price fluctuations of securities (A packing house in Indiana says: "We derive knowledge of conditions in almost every industry. Your articles on exports and the provision market are excellent.")

FINANCIAL STATEMENTS of corporations are analyzed and interpreted. Con isons with three previous years are also given.

(A wholesale dry goods house in New York writes: "We appreciate more than anything else the analyses of corporation financial statements.") You cannot get such complete, exclusive financial and business service from any other for an estate as well as any structure. The bed-rock of conservative estatebuilding should be the policy to invest in carefully selected bonds during one's active business years. This means freedom from care in later life, and definitely planned protection for one's heirs.

> Overlapping inheritance taxes by many states are not the least problem of the estate builder. We shall be pleased to discuss these problems with you

Your Business "Hit On All Six?"

A lagging cylinder not only subtracts its own energy from the power of your oar, but appropriates some of the energy produced by the other cylinders.

Likewise, credit losses and worries are not only bad enough in themselves, but they rob the other phases of your business of the time, energy and money that should be devoted to developing that business.

Credit Insurance

Good Real Estate Bonds Pay More Than Average Tax-Exempts

Every investor is interested in obtaining safety and the greatest possible net interest return from investments. Under the present Federal Income Tax Law, Greenebaum First Mortgage Real Estate Bonds, provide a greater net yield than average tax-exempt securities, for practically every class of investor up to the $150,000 class.

Changing conditions have placed sound Real Estate Bonds in a more favorable position than ever before; as a result, investors with very large incomes are, in steadily growing numbers, now buying First Mortgage Bonds in preference to tax-exempt securities.

For your benefit, we have prepared an easily-read chart showing exactly what interest yield you receive from Greenebaum Bank Safeguarded Bonds.

V /ITH the market as high as it is at present, these three questions arise in the mind of every investor:

1. Shall I Buy Securities?
2. Shall I Sell Securities? Shall I do neither, simply holding my present list?

Upon the correct answer to these questions rests the financial future of many investors today.

Our opinion, as deduced from a statistical analysis of present business conditions, is stated definitely and clearly in a letter, recently sent to Babson clients. We shall be glad to mail you a copy with-out charge or obligation. Hand the memo below to your secretary.

Over forty years ago the Harris Organization was founded by N. W. Harris in Chicago. It now has resident representatives in forty cities in the United States and Canada. Its principal offices are Harris Trust and Savings Bank. Chicago; Harris, Forbes & Co., New York; Harris, Forbes & Co. Inc., Boston; and Harris, Forbes & Co., Ltd., Montreal. An idea that stopped a train

G EORGE WESTINGHOUSE read an article describing how a mountain had been tunneled by using machinery driven by compressed air. This suggested to him the idea of the first air brake, which marked the beginning of a new epoch in transportation.

An idea may have great potential value. To get an outsider's point of view and to secure a check on your own individual judgment, it may be worth while to discuss it with your banker.

A banker, of course, has no greater foresight than other business men, but his contact with many business men in varied lines of industry gives him a composite view of conditions that can be of value to his customers. He acts as a distributing center of information regarding business conditions.

BONDS OF A BASIC ESSENTIAL INDUSTRY

Community Progress Promoted by the Central Power Station

Real community advancement can take place only when the chief elements that compose a city or town can progress together. A unified community is prosperous if its industrial, commercial, transportation and social activities are well-balanced.

Few other agencies do more to bind a community together or to promote its progress than the central electric power station. It touches the daily life of every citizen. It brings new factories, new capital and new homes. Its importance in our economic life, therefore, is unquestioned.

For these reasons the Electric Light and Power industry continues to grow in production and revenue year by year. During 1924 the gross revenue from the sale of electric energy was $1,335,100,000, an increase of $65,550,000 over 1923. Every section of the United States reported an increased revenue in 1924.

The securities of established Electric Light and Power corporations, accordingly, are backed by a demonstrated earning ability. When selecting such securities for investment, the experience of the executives of R. E. Wilsey & Company, covering a period of twenty-five years, will assist you materially.

Coupon Notes in denomination of $1,000. State of Penninterest on these Notes refundable.

GENERAL: Brentano's, Inc., is successor to a business started in 1853 by Mr. August Brentano. The Company was operated as a partnership until 1899 when it was incorporated under the laws of New York. Brentano's, Inc., booksellers, publishers and stationers, operates stores in New York, Washington and Chicago, and is closely affiliated with Brentano's, Ltd., London, and Brentano's, Paris. It is recognized as the leader in its field in the United States.

SECURITY: The balance sheet as of December 31, 1924, after giving effect to this financing, shows net tangible assets equivalent to $3,639 for each $1,000 Note and net current assets equivalent to $3,410 for each $1,000 Note. Total current assets are over twice total current liabilities EARNINGS: For the six fiscal years ended June 30, 1924, average annual net earnings, after depreciation, as reported by the auditors, W. B. Dickenson & Co., New York, were $115,300, equivalent to approximately 5.5 times maximum annual interest requirements for this issue. For the six months ended December 31, 1924, such earnings were reported in excess of $129,000.

MANAGEMENT: The management rests entirely in the hands of the Brentanos, as has been the case since the business was founded over seventy years ago by Mr. August Brentano.

Price: 100 and accrued interest to yield 6%

Broomhall Revises Estimates.

Broomhall has revised upwards by 32. 10,00000 bu his estimate on world's import requirements of wheat, and now figures them at 752,000,000 bu, of which 194,000,000 bu must be obtained between March 1 and July 30. He figures the United States can clear 60,000,000 bu; Australia, 54,000,000 bu; Australia, 54,000,000 bu; Argentina, 78. 100,000 bu, and other countries 200,000 bu, and other countries 200,000 bu, and other countries 200,000 bu. His estimate was regarded as bullish, especially in view of official cables indicating some damage in India, while the figures on the United States are above any of the private estimates as to the quantities this country has to spare after allowing for a carry over of 75,000,000 bu.

Outside interest in corn is not nearly as large as in wheat, but there was fair support on all dips, and the close was within a fraction of the top. The cash basis was 1@6c lower as compared with May, with No. 5 grades leading the decline, while the eastern demand continues slow.

Oats and rye markets were influenced largely by the action of other grains, with no improvement in the domestic or export demand reported. Fully 50 per cent of the Kansas oats acreage has been seeded in the southern counties.

Nothing was heard regarding export sales of rye at the seaboard.

Secured by a first mortgage on the fixed properties of the company. Their value is more than 2½ times the amount of all outstanding bonds.

At their present market price the yield on these securities is slightly under 7.25%. Considering the soundness of the investment, this is an unusually attractive yield. Because of the company's strong position in the industry, these bonds are readily marketable with banks and investment

Net earnings, for six years, have averaged $15,605,846.70; or

31/2 times annual interest requirements. It is one of the eight largest oil producing companies, and an important producer of natural gas. These facts assure the stability of its securities. Appreciation At least 4% of these bonds must be retired each year. This means constantly increasing value behind the securities, and naturally steady appreciation of their real value. The above briefly summarizes some of the outstanding features of this issue. With them in mind, we recommend these bonds as sound, attractive investments. Detailed information gladly mailed rortions of this tract and close to roads that agricultural value and close to roads and railroads in this tract are of a wild, rugged character, covered with a second growth timber and, being interspersed with numerous lakes abounding with fish, and the sources of famous trout streams, would make ideal private fish and game preserve, hunting lodges or vacation land for the employes of industrial concerns.

If exploited along economic lines, an investment in this tract should in a few years yield handsome profits.
